Custom Compliance Education and Certification Testing for Your Team

Compliance education and certification are critical components of personnel training. Your team depends on you to deliver the tools for compliance with government regulations and company policies and procedures.

Using ePorzio®, you can efficiently and cost-effectively train and certify personnel on:

- Your company's field force manual and standard operating procedures
- Sampling regulations of the states in which they sample
- Legend and/or controlled substances sampling
- Regulations applicable to different levels of practitioners, including physicians, APRNs and physician assistants
- Federal guidelines and industry standards
- Specified mid-level practitioners (dentists, direct-entry midwives, podiatrists, veterinarians, optometrists, psychologists) ePorzio® compliance certification exams can be taken anytime, anywhere. No two tests are alike and certification through an independent party underscores your compliance commitment.
